DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to the applicant's amendment filed 8/4/2005. Claims 1 – 8 have been finally rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The wording in lines 8 and 9 in claim 1 make the limitations of the claim unclear.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 recites the limitation "said cup base side" in line 8 of claim 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1 – 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eeles (3,213,951).

With respect to claims 1 – 2, and 4: Eeles teaches a cup shaped drill head 11 with a longitudinal axis with a leading end and a trailing end for force-locking connection to an outer axially extending surface 16 of a driving drill shank 10. The cup shaped drill head 11 has an inner conical surface 17; a cup base 14a having a curvature; an inner cylindrical surface 20 extending from the cup base 14a to the inner conical surface 17. These three different surface portions create at least three uniformly increasing curvatures differing in magnitude from the inner conical surface to the center point.

With respect to claims 3, and 5 – 8: Eeles teaches in column 1, lines 48 – 52 a mathematically smooth transition of the inner surface from the inner conical surface 17 to the inner cylindrical surface 20 to the cup base 14a. Eeles refers to the cup base 14a as a dome. A dome is a hemispherical or semispherical shape that has a mathematically analyzable function, which encapsulates all the possible inner surfaces that are mathematically of the second order.

The reference teaches the features as previously claimed except that it does not expressly teach a cup base with a variable curvature. The reference does teach the cup base in terms of a dome. A dome is not defined as having one specific curvature. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have modified Eeles' invention by having a cup base with a variable curvature. The motivation for this is that the cup base possessing a variable curvature would allow for the cup-shaped drill head to fit a wider variety of drill shafts.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
